

Grammar_Relative clauses

For questions 1–10, join the sentences together using the relative pronouns in brackets.

1

Peter Jones is speaking at the conference. I believe you met his deputy last week. (whose)
Peter Jones _____ at the conference.

2

We stayed in a delightful bed and breakfast. It was scrupulously clean. (where)
The delightful bed and breakfast _____.

3

He was sentenced to prison for a crime. He was not guilty of it. (which)
He was not _____ prison.

4

My daughter seems happier now that she has graduated. That's a relief. (which)
My daughter seems happier now _____.

5

Somebody warned you this whole sorry saga would end in tears. I hate to say it, but it was Jim. (who)

I hate to say it, but _____ would end in tears.

6

The singers put on a great show. Some of them, we discovered, were amateurs. (whom)
The _____ a great show.

7

New regulations have come into effect. The new regulations mean all employees must undergo regular _____ medical _____ examinations. (whereby)
New regulations have come _____ regular medical examinations.

8

He said something. It shocked me to the core. (what)

_____.

9

Peter demanded more money. Jack strode off in a rage. (which)
Peter demanded _____ in a rage.

10

He gave a famous speech. I've forgotten the name of it. (which)
He gave a _____ I've forgotten.